NEW MITIGATION DEPARTMENT PRIMED TO TACKLE SHORT SALES

Orlando, FL, August 20th, 2009: In a market that has seen over 60% of all independent title companies close, Barry L. Miller's business continues to flourish and grow. Mr. Miller is following up his title company's, The Closing Agent, recent expansion into 40 other states with opening a new department in his law office that will provide short sale mitigation services for clients. The new department will be supervised by Mr. Miller with the day to day negotiations being handled by attorney, Shawn Berry.

Recent statistics have shown that short sale numbers are expected to rise over the next couple of years. This ever growing market creates a serious demand for bank mitigation. Mr. Miller's goal for this department is to allow his clients and their realtors more time to sell property and less time on the phone and dealing with paperwork with banks. The firm offers representation for negotiating with banks for short sales, loan modifications and representing homeowners in the foreclosure litigation. Mr. Miller's proven methods will allow him to close faster than most other mitigators. The mitigation department working very close with his title company, The Closing Agent, Inc., allows him to offer his clients and realtors, a much needed, a one stop shop for bank negotiations, foreclosure representation, loan modification, title insurance and closing.

When asked about the constant growth of his companies during such a turbulent time in the industry, Mr. Miller responded by saying, "By providing excellent service and having the most experienced staff in Central Florida makes us unique and that is why we continue to grow."
